

You could use some lego pieces.....

- make a simple square wall shape, as a temple, with a courtyard in the middle, perhaps on a tray with a bit of sand and some lego people.
- think about how the Temple in the story had been made into a market-place.
- invite your child to think about how we might be the sort of church that Jesus wants and to write their ideas in the sand, or on a piece of paper
- e.g. welcoming, including everyone. loving, helping,
- encourage the children to offer these things up to God and ask for help to be that kind of church.

I remember that day really well. It was nearly Passover. * The Temple courts were crowded. There were men selling cattle, sheep and doves, and others sitting at tables exchanging money. The next thing we knew, Jesus was making a whip out of cords, and he began to drive the animals out of the Temple.

Cows and sheep were charging about, and doves were flying everywhere as he let them out of their cages. He scattered the coins of the money-changers and overturned their tables. He began shouting, 'Get these out of here! How dare you turn my Father's house into a marketplace!' *

'As I look back now, I remember that the ancient prophets had written, 'Zeal for God's house will overwhelm me.' We could see it with our own eyes. And then the Jews there demanded of him, 'What miraculous sign can you show us to prove your authority to do all this?' And Jesus answered them, 'Destroy this Temple, and I will raise it in three days.' They laughed. 'It's taken forty-six years to build this Temple, and you are going to raise it in three days?!' But after the resurrection, the "three days" began to make sense! *
